Need Lease For Increase In Rentals

OTTAWA, April 7 —(CP)—Finance Minister Abbott announced today a maximum increase of 10 per cent in rental ceilings on self-contained housing accommodation provided the landlord is prepared to enter into a rental lease for a minimum term of two years.

He also announced that hotel accommodation becomes control-free immediately.

The increase allowed in housing accommodation would become effective upon the expiration of the present lease. If the tenant refuses the proffered two-year renewal lease he may be required to vacate at the end of his present lease.

In such a case, the landlord may put the 10-per-cent increase into effect in renting to another tenant.

If the landlord is not prepared to offer his tenant the two-year renewal lease, the tenant may remain in occupancy after the expiration of his current lease as a tenant from month to month at the previous rental ceiling and will continue at the same time to enjoy protection from eviction.

The tenant has 30 days in which to make up his mind whether or not he wants to accept the landlord's offer. If he does not accept the offer, it acts as a notice to vacate at the end of the lease subject to provincial law.

IF THE TENANT accepts, the two-year renewal lease may be terminated by the tenant at any time on 30 days' notice but is binding on the landlord for the full two-year term.

Mr. Abbott said the two-year renewal lease and the 10-per-cent increase will not apply to housing accommodation built since Jan. 1, 1944, and this includes dwellings created by structural conversion or reconstruction since that date, because the rentals of such dwellings have been fixed at higher levels related to costs of labor and materials.

Present regulations of the prices board specifically provided that the rentals of all housing accom-

Define Dwellings For Rents Boost

OTTAWA, April 7.—(CP)—Prices Board officials said today "self-contained" accommodation, the rental ceilings of which now may be boosted 10 per cent, include generally such dwellings as apartments, flats, duplexes and one-family houses.

However, they added that the category also could cover "borderline" cases ranging into the fields of shared accommodation. Doubtful cases would have to be determined by the rentals administration.

Lewis' Men Stay Off Job

Mine "Safety Strike" Hits U.S. Industry

By Lawrence Gonder

WASHINGTON, April 7 —(BUP)—A "safety strike" in the nation's soft coal fields today dealt another blow at the steel industry, already under short rations from a one-week "memorial" work stoppage called by John L. Lewis.

REPORTS FROM mining areas indicated that members of the United Mine Workers (AFU) were staying away from work almost solidly. Lewis had not issued any formal new strike order but had demanded that the government keep the mines closed until they were inspected and found safe by federal examiners.

The formal "memorial" shutdown ended at midnight. It was called as a mourning period for the 111 miners. In Ohio where 18,000 of Lewis' 400,000 soft coal union members are employed, the pits were empty. Thomas Price, secretary of Ohio's District 6, said that he

"River of Woe" Flows Again In England

LONDON, April 7.—(AP)—England's "river of woe," a stream that appears mysteriously and just as mysteriously disappears, is flowing again for the first time in nine years—to the terror of superstitious folk who believe the river's reappearance is a warning of disaster.

Sometimes known as the Caterham "woe water" and sometimes simply as Croydon Bourne, the river last coursed through the Caterham valley near London in 1936—just before a typhoid epidemic claimed 43 lives in the region.

Earlier appearances were recorded during the great plague of 1665 and during the First World War, when each of the stream's three "rebirths" preceded allied military reverses.

But L. V. Gordon, Caterham urban council surveyor, today discounted the supernatural belief about the "woe water," and said it was merely the result of unusually heavy rainfall.

Big U.S. Labor Union Blasted in Report

WASHINGTON, April 7 —(AP)—A United States Congressional committee accused the top officers of a Philadelphia labor union Sunday of practicing "unprincipled banditry," and of using "terroristic and extortionate practices." Farmers, commission agents, produce merchants and even union members were the victims, the committee said.

THE CHARGES were leveled chiefly at what the report called "dynasty" in control of Local 929, International Teamsters Union, by the House of Representatives expenditures sub-committee that group has been investigating enforcement of the federal anti-racketeering law against interference with interstate commerce.

Stalin Intervention Said Only Hope

Moscow Parley Expected to End In Ten Days Without Agreement

By Ross Munro

Nothing Gained At Conference

MOSCOW, April 7.—(AP)—Britain's Ernest Bevin told the Foreign Ministers Council tonight "we have been here for four weeks and have accomplished absolutely nothing."

Bevin's utterance came after three hours and 15 minutes of a fruitless meeting dealing with a provisional government for Germany. The British foreign secretary said:

"I HAVE READ all the reports and there has not been a single item of agreement in the committee reports of any importance, nor any agreement in the Foreign Ministers' Council itself."

Bevin pointed out during the session that the council still was deliberating the first item on the agenda, agreed upon at New York during a previous meeting. Bevin said that the single item had grown into seven separate items and that, in addition, the Foreign Ministers had requested several other reports since the Moscow session started.

THE FOUR POWERS, however, agreed in the committee working on the Austrian treaty that Austria must restore to Jewish and other owners property taken from them in the German control period because of racial and religious reasons.

MOSCOW, April 7.—(CP)—The foreign ministers conference here will probably wind up within about 10 days without agreement on the key German questions of reparations and economic unity and the ministers will likely have to meet again in London in July to continue the struggle to bridge the division between east and west.

SOME DECISIONS are expected to be made this week but they will be unimportant ones, and until disputes are settled on economic unity and reparations work on drafting the German peace settlement cannot get properly underway.

After a steady, encouraging start, the conference faltered at the end of the third week when the ministers got to grips with basic problems and prospects for agreement here deteriorated rapidly after that.

NOW THE conference can practically be written off so far as important decisions are concerned, although some delegates don't rule out a dramatic 11th-hour intervention by Prime Minister Stalin, possibly in a Kremlin interview with State Secretary Marshall whom he has not yet seen, which might salvage something constructive out of these weeks of comparatively fruitless work.

But without a marked change in the Russian attitude, failure cannot be averted here and Germany will remain as divided as ever, which also means the east-west division in Europe will harden still more.

Marines in China Extend Defences

TIENTSIN, April 7.—(AP)—The Chinese government today ordered evacuation of all residents within 1,000 yards of the marine ammunition dump at Hsinho, where a surprise Communist attack Friday night killed five Americans. A marine request to extend United States defence lines to that radius was approved.

Service Halted

WASHINGTON, April 7.—(BUP)—Some 204,000 telephone workers struck today in an unprecedented coast-to-coast walkout which paralyzed normal long distance and local non-dial telephone service in all except scattered parts of the country.

With President Truman "watching", federal conciliators tried desperately to end the walkout. But there were no signs of a settlement. Number of strikers was expected soon to reach 310,000.

The countrywide strike, first in the nation's history, started at 6 a.m. in the various time zones.

WASHINGTON, April 7.—(BUP)—A top federal conciliator said, nearly nine hours after the U.S. telephone strike started, that "some progress is being made" toward a settlement.

work wire communications were not affected. And management supervisors everywhere tried to handle as many "emergency" calls as possible.

Says Hindus Must Leave or Perish

NEW DELHI, April 7.—(AP)—Mohandas K. Gandhi, who has been attempting to ensure communal peace in the Bengal and Bihar areas, said today religious strife in the troubled Noakhali section of Bengal seemed to call for Hindus to leave or perish "in the flames of fanaticism."

MEANWHILE, a one-day strike of workers throughout Bombay province appeared likely to be called by the provincial trade union congress to express sympathy with the two-week-old strike of 8,500 transport workers in the city of Bombay.

NEW DELHI, April 7.—(Reuters)—British officers and military technicians may be asked to stay on in Indian states when Britain leaves India in June, 1948, to train token forces required for internal security and defence, an official spokesman for the Indian chamber of princes stated today.

Rentals Increase Said Satisfactory

OTTAWA, April 7.—(CP)—W. J. Leclair, president of the Property Owners' Association of Canada, commented today that the newly-announced 10-per-cent increase in rental ceilings was satisfactory "as far as it goes."

"HOWEVER," he added, "we should have liked to have seen some arrangement made whereby a house owner could recover his property if required for his own uses."

He said the new regulations appeared to favor the tenant more than the landlord and owners but added that the property owners' association never had asked that controls be removed entirely.

Seek Action On 40 Years Peace

MOSCOW, April 7.—(AP)—Responsible quarters forecast Sunday that western powers would attempt again to obtain action by the Foreign Ministers Council on an American proposal for a four-power pact designed to prevent German aggression for 40 years. The United States and Britain are anxious to sound out Russian opinion on the pact and are expected to try to bring it before the Council this week.

Soviet Calls For Junking Armaments

By Robert Manning

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y., April 7.—(BUP)—Soviet Russia challenged the world today to start junking arms and armies without waiting for the controls and safeguards demanded by the United States and Britain.

Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko told the United Nations conventional armaments commission that disarmament must begin quickly to wipe out "the mutual suspicion and lack of confidence that exists between countries."

In a major speech which clashed sharply with Anglo-American views, Gromyko said it would be harmful to wait for the three guarantees which the western countries say must be provided by the UN before arms scrapping is possible.

These are: (1) World atomic energy control machinery, (2) formation of the UN's world peace force and (3) development of strict control and safeguards to assure honest world disarmament.

Gromyko insisted that the UN outlaw atomic weapons even before the inspection and control machinery which the United States insists must be set up before American atomic bombs, presumably the only ones in the world, are thrown away and further production is halted.

GROMYKO HAD in his brief case a second speech with which he will open Russia's assault on the Truman stop-Communism doctrine before the Security Council later today.

Soviet officials said Gromyko would speak in English for that address, potentially a signal for explosive debate on Mr. Truman's plan to block Communist expansion by funneling $400,000,000 aid to Greece and Turkey.

Gromyko made clear that Russia believes in the need for some form of international supervision of disarmament. But he insisted that the UN must not "prolong the preparation and implementation of actual measures for paring national armed strength."

THE COMMISSION, he said, should do "everything in its power" to work out immediate means for guaranteeing that the disarmament measures are carried out by everyone, but this should not be used for "excuses" for delay.

Two Persons Are Injured

Injuries were suffered by two persons in nine traffic accidents in city streets during the week-end. Nine persons were arrested, seven on liquor charges, one for assault and the other on an indecent exposure count.

The two injured are: Rose Molar, 9847 106 avenue.

Raymond Parocino, a youth who resides at the Prince of Wales Armory.

Miss Molar was injured when struck by a vehicle about 8:30 p.m. Saturday at Jasper avenue and 100 street. Police said the vehicle was driven by George MacDonald, 10113 87 avenue.

She suffered a slight cut on the temple and a skinned wrist. She was not taken to hospital.

The Parocino youth suffered a bruised left ankle and skinned left knee when he ran around behind a street car into the side of an automobile said to be driven by C. F. McClure, 10919 124 street. The accident occurred at 109 street and 107 avenue about 5 p.m. Saturday.

Decontrol Policies

One Liberal member of Parliament said he is afraid the Government is "shifting too fast from second gear to high gear" in the matter of decontrolling prices. Probably there are some others who have the same misgiving. It would be strange if there were not. For there isn't any ready-made time table for a decontrol policy based on a reasoned and realistic regard for the consequences.

Account has to be taken of the supply situation. If this is bad, inflation would follow if the ceiling were removed from that particular line of goods. But account also has to be taken of where and to what extent a rigid control of prices is discouraging production. The middle course is not easy to find.

To protect the consumer against price-inflation, but to also encourage producers to get out more of the things that are wanted, involves continuous and detailed study of factors which are changing from day to day—and which do not change uniformly across the Dominion. Obviously decontrol cannot be applied with machine precision if both ends are to be attained. Of course there are miscalculations and inequalities. There are bound to be.

The two major Opposition parties have no such hampering uncertainties. They know exactly what they would do, and are not bothering their heads about the consequences.

Conservative members have been telling the Government that it should sweep away the whole control system at a stroke, let prices run riot, the consumer pay whatever the producer demanded, and the national economy look out for itself.

The CCF contingent have been demanding quite as lustily that no more controls be taken off, that those already removed be clapped on again. How they would get the producer to exert himself and make goods more plentiful they do not explain. Either they are not interested in that subject or they think it better to not say what methods they would employ. They promise nothing beyond regimentation, rigid, complete, and indefinite in time.

The three policies are thus set before the public clearly and officially, and are to be found in the pages of Hansard. They are:

1. An attempt to decontrol prices by a graduated process, aimed to prevent inflation while stimulating production;
2. A sudden and complete abolition of all controls, let the result be what it may—and what it always has been when this was done in a time of insufficient production;
3. Rigid control of all prices, with nothing said about speeding up production.

No one can say that the policy of orderly decontrol is one hundred per cent successful. But as compared to the two alternative proposals it has two advantages which neither of these offer or can offer. It is holding prices down while and where they need to be held, and is making easements when and where production needs an incentive to expand.

The Right to Say

British Columbia has a new labor law. One clause provides that before a strike can be legally called in that province a government-supervised vote must be taken of the men who would be involved in the tie-up.

How this arrangement works in practice will be watched with keen interest all over Canada. It was opposed very vigorously in the legislature by C. C. F. members, and was condemned with equal vigor by militant leaders of labor organizations. Whether the rank and file members of these organizations are similarly opposed will be disclosed later.

It is no secret that strikes are sometimes called by aggressive leaders without unquestionable sanction by the organization members. Nor that members are sometimes stampeded into strike action which they do not really approve. These no doubt were the reasons why the clause in question was inserted in the bill.

A strike is a serious matter for all concerned. Often it is more serious to the strikers than to the employers. It would seem fair therefore that men should not be rushed into a strike by anyone, but that each should have a fair chance to record his personal opinion beforehand as to the wisdom of a course which involves more or less loss of wages. A vote by ballot under government supervision looks like a reasonable way to protect this individual right.

Night Birds

There is a type of nuisance, found in Edmonton as elsewhere, about which apparently little can be done. He is the fellow who wanders home in the early hours of the morning and who is moved either by exhilaration within or by the beauties of the night to burst into loud and raucous song so that honest burghers are awakened from their sleep and pour stifled curses into their pillows.

Sometimes this midnight ecstasy takes the form of loud conversation between two companions—conversation that can be heard for blocks and which bores into the ears of somnolent householders with all the soporific quality of a buzz-saw.

This nuisance may be young or old. Sometimes the exuberance of undisciplined youth can be held accountable. But in nearly all cases the offender is old enough to know better.

Of course, it is an offence against the law to commit a public nuisance—such as this practice is. But who is going to crawl out of bed and telephone for the constabulary because some belated ass decides to howl like a dog in the still night?

The truth is that these noisy fellows should restrain themselves because their nocturnal clamor is so highly revealing. No one but a blatant exhibitionist would indulge in it. And no blatant exhibitionist would indulge in it unless he were pretty much of a worm in the presence of other people.

It is the inferiority complex breaking its bonds. It is the gnat boldly baying the moon.

The Line-Up

There are now 126 Liberals in the House of Commons, 67 Conservatives, 28 CCF members, 13 Social Crediters, 4 Independents, 2 Bloc Populaire members, one Independent Liberal, one Independent Conservative, one Independent CCF'er, one Union Des Electeur, and one vacancy.

The government thus has an over-all majority of 7, a comparatively narrow margin but sufficient to ensure stability, since a situation could hardly arise in which all opposition groups would stand together and induce three or four Liberals to "bolt" at the cost of bringing on an unnecessary general election.

It will surprise a good many readers to note that there are nominally ten groups in the House. But, since the "independent" qualification is usually meaningless on important occasions, the number may be reduced to six for practical purposes.

THE TIMID SOUL

Scrap Book's Warning

BY ELMORE PHILPOTT

A reader who lives almost literally astride the U.S.-Canadian border has sent me a scrap book he kept as a school boy in Boston.

It covers the year I was born in—1896.

In some ways it is actually funny for it shows how history tends to repeat itself. For instance this last item on the last page:

London, Feb. 20, 1896: A dispatch to the Globe from Shanghai says it is believed that Russia intends to establish a protectorate over Korea, and that England and the United States will strenuously resist such actions.

In the meantime the Japanese are making active naval preparations.

The English and Americans, however, were themselves then closer to war than they ever were since. The Venezuelan crisis had just passed its apex.

MOST OF the book is about the developing crisis between Spain and the United States. Even in 1896, two years before the actual physical war, the United States and Spain were "squaring off" much the same as the United States and Russia are doing now.

Cables from London, Feb. 29, reported that the Westminster Gazette showed how the United States challenge to Spain has made it very difficult for Spain to back down. The Globe complained that the United States Senate's resolution was "another enlargement of the Monroe Doctrine on a gigantic scale."

A paper in Mexico City thought that United States annexation of Cuba would end in United States annexation of Mexico.

Hostility towards the United States was rampant in Spain as it obviously was the other way around in the United States Congress.

On March 7, 1896, the Spanish government closed the four main universities in order to "prevent further outbreaks against the United States."

Here indeed is one striking lesson that leaps at you from the pages of this scrap book. The war scares of 1896 were equally real as between "England" (not called Britain) and the United States, and between Spain and the United States. The former crisis did not end in war, possibly because the scrap book clearly shows) the people of Britain refused to rise to the challenge—whereas those of Spain very vociferously did.

THE SPANISH-AMERICAN war is ancient history now. But there is a terrible lesson in it for all the world in 1947.

We have, right now, most of the same "makings" of war between the United States and Russia that existed in the last years of the 19th century as between the United States and Spain.

It is a matter of common knowledge that the people of the United States were plunged overnight into the Spanish war on a fake issue.

Our world is moving toward the same danger today. The peoples of the United States and the Soviet Union are being mentally mobilized for future war against each other. Unless something is done to call off the psychological war and to demobilize the mental warmongers, it is only a question of time until there will be some episode like the explosion on the U.S.S. Maine, which unscrupulous "yellow journals" used to stampee the two nations into war overnight.

THE OLD SCRAP book plainly shows that the principle of the "Monroe Doctrine" is not an extension of the "Monroe Doctrine"—but directly contrary to it.

The full text of Monroe's famous speech of December 2, 1823, is included. It records agreements with the British about St. Lawrence navigation; also friendly exchanges with Russia foreshadowing Russian abandonment of her American Pacific coast holdings. But it shows that the Monroe Doctrine was itself a two-war affair.

It warned European powers to keep out of the Americas.

It promised the world that the United States would not interfere in the internal affairs of European nations.

Thus the "Truman Doctrine" to move into Greece and Turkey is a new and dangerous departure.

The core of the two-way Monroe Doctrine was "America for the Americans" and Europe for Europeans.

Good Cartels and Bad

BY BRUCE HUTCHISON

In America the word "cartel" has a sinister sound. Here the cartel is regarded as a device to maintain high prices and to restrict production. Operated by a totalitarian government, like Hitler's, the cartel can be a weapon of economic and even military war.

But when United States and Canadian delegates attempted to write a prohibition of cartels into the new world trade charter they found that their opinion was not shared in many other countries. Some governments see no danger in the principle of cartels. Others regard them as a natural and valuable mechanism in the conduct of trade. As a result, the tentative trade charter drafted in London last autumn admits that cartels may operate. It seeks only to distinguish between "good" cartels and "bad". Instead of forbidding cartels it attempts only to regulate them.

TO THIS END signatories of the charter are asked to take to prevent international trade practices which restrain competition, limit access to markets or foster monopolistic control of business, whether such offences are committed by private companies or state enterprises.

In general moral force is counted upon to prevent such activities. The drafters of the charter do not agree on any automatic method of enforcing the laws against bad cartels since the nations that favor good cartels would not subject these organizations to any form of international control.

Any nation which considers that it is being injured by a domestic cartel is at liberty, of course, under its own laws, to suppress such activities. If it is being injured by an international cartel outside its control it can complain to the International Trade Organization. The organization can ask the nation owning the cartel to hear the views of the aggrieved nation and it can demand full information on the operations of the cartel. Then the organization can issue a judgment holding that the cartel is innocent or guilty of the charges laid against it—can rule, in short, that the cartel is operating within the charter or in defiance of it.

IF THE ORGANIZATION finds the cartel guilty it will advise the owning nation and request it to eliminate these abuses. Afterwards it can ask this nation to report what it has done to carry out this request. Full publicity concerning any abuse and the moral sense of the nations are counted upon to produce reform. The signatories agree in advance to heed the considered findings of the organization in every case and to take every possible step to prevent any commercial organization violating the organization's rules. But if all moral pressure fails an aggrieved nation may take individual action against an international cartel and it may secure the co-operation of other nations in these efforts, provided that it notifies the organization of its intentions.

For example, if the United States felt it was suffering from a foreign cartel it could prohibit the sale of any of the cartel's products in American territory and it could ask other nations to do the same. A group of determined nations might strike a deadly blow at a cartel. Also, a nation maintaining a cartel denounced by the organization would run the risk of incurring the displeasure of its customers which would find means of damaging its business within their territory.

Inter-governmental commodity agreements, which will be discussed in the final article of this series, are exempted from the regulations governing cartels.

Wheat Prices

London Daily Telegraph

The Argentine Government's central selling agency has made a profit of over £7,500,000 on its £15,000,000 wheat deal with the Ministry of Food.

Sufficient information is now available in the city to show that the price paid was approximately £30 a ton, free on board. This is more than double the price paid by the British government to the British farmer.

It is also well over double the price paid by the Argentine Government to their own farmers.

The price is also high in relation to Canadian wheat, for which the British Government pays the Canadian Grain Board the equivalent of approximately £15 a ton, free on board, under its very favorable contract. The small quantity of Canadian wheat sold by the Canadian Grain Board on the free market fetches approximately £24 a ton.

Strikes Bounce Back

BY HARPER PROWSE, M.L.A.

The majority of our veterans who are being re-established on the land, both with and without help from the Veterans' Land Act, are finding that the shortage of machinery is posing them with an almost impassable obstacle. In spite of sympathetic treatment from the implement dealers and V.L.A. officials many of them just aren't going to be able to obtain the machinery they require to put in their crops. Only visible solution to the problem lies in the fact that a great many of the established farmers are planning to lend a hand and machinery to the veterans to see them through the difficulty.

Present arrangements between V.L.A. and the machine dealers is that one-third of all tractors and other machinery is earmarked for V.L.A. veterans, another one-third for veterans who are re-establishing themselves without aid from V.L.A., and one-third for civilian farmers. This division seems reasonable and is about as much as can be hoped for.

HOWEVER, V.L.A. have applications from 1,735 veterans whom they established last year and their quota is expected to total only 500 tractors, some of which won't be available for distribution before the end of May. Obviously as the V.L.A. haven't enough machinery to meet the needs of the men they are establishing they can't spare any for men who do not come under them.

Shortages now are the result of industrial disputes last year which curtailed production and, what is even more serious at the moment, a boxcar shortage which prevents the distribution of the machines now being manufactured from the factories to the distributing agents. It is hoped that although this is curtailing deliveries at the moment the box-car situation will improve to enable delivery of a greater number of tractors at least in time to permit summer-fallow work this year.

Most machine companies are anxious to assist veterans to become re-established with the result that they will not deliver a tractor for the civilian market until one has been delivered to a non-V.L.A. veteran. V.L.A. are also insisting that the non-V.L.A. veterans receive preference on those tractors not earmarked for the V.L.A. in order to assist these men who are cutting their own trail.

REPORTS FROM around the country indicate that the machine dealers are making every effort to assist the veterans to get machinery out of the limited stocks available. But the overall shortages of tractors and drills, which is being complicated by the unusually heavy demand, makes it impossible for them to satisfy everyone.

Those farmers, veterans and civilians, who are fortunate enough to have the machinery they require, have an opportunity of doing a worthwhile public service and making staunch friends for themselves by loaning or renting their equipment to their less fortunate neighbours.

The Bulletin's Readers Say:

THE TRUCKER'S CASE

Editor, Bulletin—An article appearing in your valuable paper of March 27 contained Mr. Fallow's allegations that the truck operators were trying to obtain a monopoly of the trucking business in this province, and that the issue involved was whether an impartial board would administer the trucking business, or the administration be turned over to the truckers themselves.

Since 1939, this organization has been making representations to the Hon. W. A. Fallow and the highway traffic board asking for public hearings of all applicants for new public service vehicle certificates. At no time has this organization or any group of truck operators even suggested that the administration of the motor transport industry be turned over to themselves. The aim of the Alberta Motor Transport Association is to obtain a ruling stating that public hearings must be held by an impartial highway traffic board, which board is set up by the provincial government, and is at present under the administration of the Hon. W. A. Fallow, minister of public works.

The purpose of holding public hearings is, as stated by the minister, to obtain a monopoly, but to have evidence presented as to whether or not there exists public necessity and convenience for an additional truck service in any area for which a new license is applied. The purpose of this procedure is to have all the evidence placed before the highway traffic board, thus placing them in a position to judge whether or not additional truck services are necessary.

This procedure is followed in all other Canadian provinces, and in every state in the United States, and is also the practice carried out in Alberta with regard to applications for new bus services. Surely the minister did not mean to convey that the bus industry in this province has a closed corporation and is dictating to the highway traffic board what their decision shall be.

The Alberta Motor Transport Association is not trying to obtain a closed corporation or to dictate to the highway traffic board what policies they shall follow. It does, on the other hand, know that an intelligently regulated trucking industry in this province will guarantee a more efficient and dependable truck service to the people served by it, particularly to those 1,976 communities which have no other means of receiving consumer goods or of shipping their produce to market, other than by motor truck.

Resurrection Story Retold World Greet Easter As Millions Worship

By The Canadian Press

Christians throughout the world greeted the Easter dawn Sunday by bowing their heads in service and listening again to the story of Christ and the Resurrection.

CROWDS THROGGED great cathedrals and churches or held sunrise services out of doors.

Ancient bells tolled the dawn in strife-wrecked Palestine to herald the anniversary of the greatest day in the Christian calendar.

Worshippers of other faiths also observed the day in Jerusalem. At the north edge of the city, overlooking the garden of Gethsemane, about 10,000 Moslems prayed at their Haram Esh Sharif mosque, and then set out on the long journey into the desert near Jericho, to the Moslem shrine of Nebi Musa.

Members of the Jewish faith continued their observance of the Passover. Their shoulders covered with prayer shawls, they walked again to the Wailing Wall—a great barrier built from stones of Hebrew temples long ago destroyed—and located just outside the Moslem mosque area.

THOUSANDS OF pilgrims converged on Rome for services marking the holy day. The more than 1,000 bells of Rome, from the tiny ones of half-hidden convents to the deep-throated bronzes of the great St. Peter's Basilica, tolled out the glad tidings of the Risen Saviour.

WEATHER 'SPOILS CANADA "PARADES"

All over Eastern Canada the Easter parades were buffeted by rains and high winds but more favorable weather prevailed in the west as thousands of Canadians went to church services yesterday, ate the traditional Easter dinners and took part, as best they were able, in the Easter parade.

When Kidneys Work Too Often You May Lose Sleep and Energy

If you are embarrassed and annoyed by too frequent elimination during the day or night or if you suffer from Burning Urine, Backache, Nervousness, Rheumatic Pains, Frequent Headaches and Colds, and feel old before your time, Kidney and Bladder troubles may be the cause.

Worry, Colds, working too hard, or over-eating or drinking may create an excess of acids and overload your kidneys so that they need help to clean out poisonous wastes that might otherwise undermine your health.

Help Kidneys Remove Acids

Nature provides the kidneys to clean and purify your blood and to remove excess acids. The kidneys contain about nine million tiny tubes or filters through which the heart pumps blood about 300 times an hour, night and day, so it's easy to see that they must get tired when overloaded.

Nearly twenty years ago a scientific formula called Cystex was made available to the public through drug stores, making it easy and inexpensive to help thousands of suffering from Kidney and Bladder troubles in these three simple ways: 1. Help the kidneys remove excess acids which may become poisoning and irritating. 2. To palliate burning and smarting of the urinary passages, and bladder irritation. 3. Help the kidneys clean out wastes which may become poisonous if allowed to accumulate, thus aiding nature in eliminating an increase of energy, which may easily make you feel more youthful.

Liberal Trial Offer

So prove that Cystex may be the very medicine you need, accept this liberal trial offer: Get Cystex from your druggist today. Give it a fair trial exactly as directed and watch for quick help, a rapid increase in pep, and new joy in living. Cystex must bring you the help you want and satisfy completely or you simply return the empty package and you get your money back. No extra cost.

U.S. Miners

didn't believe "any of our miners are going back to work until their mines have been inspected and re-inspected."

THAT WAS ABOUT the situation throughout the soft coal districts of Pennsylvania, West Virginia and other areas. In Illinois, members of the rival Progressive Mine Workers Union were continuing to work, but the UMW miners were out.

The signal for the new walkout was Lewis' demand that the government close all but two mines until they pass individual federal inspection. Federal Coal Administrator N. H. Collison rejected the request, contending the present government contract contained adequate provision for handling any dangerous mine.

Truman

time—to stamp out the smouldering beginnings of any conflict that may threaten to spread over the world.

ROUNDING OUT his second year in office, the president spoke with a confidence and bluntness that prompted old Democrats to declare at once that he would be the unanimous choice of the party for re-election in 1948.

On March 12 the president requested congressional authority to help with money and personnel the Greek and Turkish government resistance to Communism.

The policy, still hotly debated in congress, seems sure of approval but has had the effect of putting the few remaining isolationists in the same boat with the Communists on this particular issue.

SATURDAY Truman widened the policy to include all countries where freedom is threatened—the enlargement of the Monroe Doctrine to world-wide scope.

Floods

already many city districts are inundated.

THE TALE was the same at other centres along the Thames. At Thamesville, 16 miles up the river, water covered the business section two feet deep with the flood peak still to come.

At Wallaceburg, once reported three-quarters under water, the situation eased with the Sydenham river dropping about 18 inches. Other towns, including Dresden, where the water in the business section was 10 feet deep, made similar reports.

An additional death was reported today from Collingwood, where nine-year-old Gordon Eccles of that town slipped off a bridge into the flood-swollen Underwood creek.

THESE WERE the flood deaths Sunday: Mrs. Jeanette Mack, 65, and Mrs. Margaret Rullett, 64, swept off a make-shift wooden pathway into the swollen Oshawa creek; William Oldridge, 78, drowned in one foot of water in his London home after suffering a heart attack; Willis Bowers, 50, who fell from a punt into the flood waters at Wallaceburg.

Throngs Watch Procession Colorful Rites Mark Burial of Greek King

Athens, April 7.—(Reuters)—A salvo of artillery fired from Mount Lycabettus, overlooking Athens, bade farewell to King George II of Greece as the long funeral procession left Athens cathedral Sunday for the 14-mile journey to the King's last resting place in a tomb on the tree-covered slopes above the village of Tatoi.

CHURCH BELLS tolled out Chopin's funeral march, echoed back from the white-walled streets packed with hushed crowds who had waited since early morning.

A brilliant mass of regimental colors headed the procession. Greek sailors drew the gun carriage on which lay the coffin, covered with the royal standard and surmounted by a golden crown. Evzones (white kilted soldiery) of the royal guard formed a guard of honor.

Behind on foot came King Paul I, the late king's brother, who acceded to the throne last Tuesday when King George died of a heart attack. He held by the hand his six-year-old son Constantine, now the Crown Prince.

Representatives of the heads of state followed. The Duke of Beaufort represented King George VI. The Soviet Union was represented by second secretary Bouché of the Soviet Embassy.

James C. Dunn, United States Ambassador to Rome, represented President Truman. President İnönü of Turkey, the Prince Regent of Belgium, Queen Wilhelmina of Holland, the Grand Duchess of Luxembourg, the King of Denmark and the King of Sweden all sent representatives.

APPOINTED: Walter Kerr, whose appointment as manager of the Edmonton office of Stewart-Lovick and MacPherson Ltd. has been confirmed by J. E. H. Lovick, managing-director.

To Crack Down On Bootleg Coal

GLACE BAY, N.S., April 7.—(CP)—As the leader of 13,000 striking Maritime miners prepared to fly to Ottawa for a meeting which may offer a solution to the seven-week-old colliery tie-up, district 26, United Mine Workers (CCL) officials served notice they were cracking down on all mining of bootleg coal.

FREEMAN JENKINS, district UMW president, is scheduled to fly to the capital tonight for a meeting tomorrow in which he expects to hold discussions with international UMW (AFL) officials. Thomas Kennedy, international secretary-treasurer and government officials.

The order banning bootleg mining came Saturday in a union directive.

evil which has visited upon the city of Philadelphia.

2. "Employees and members of labor unions from oppression, domination and control by subversive elements.

3. Goods moving in commerce by prohibiting the asking, demanding, receiving, or payment of any sum of money under any pretext or guise whatever as a condition to their unloading, handling, sale, or distribution."

"THE RECORD of the investigation," the sub-committee's report declared, "is replete in its portrayal of as defiantly arrogant and unprincipled banditry as any heretofore shamefully recorded."

"That such lawlessness masqueraded under the guise of union activity only serves to illustrate the case with which, in the present state of federal laws, persons of evil intent may falsely pose as the benefactors, protectors, and exponents of the cause of labor, while simultaneously using labor's banner as a cloak to shield their own extortionate objectives."

After tracing the history of the local from the time of its establishment in 1941 the committee declared:

"The top echelon, Harry Daniels—better known as 'Turk' Daniels—and Abe Goldberg, disdained their former role as truck driver and checker, respectively, and vigorously launched themselves upon a new career: ostensibly that of championing the cause of those who were employed in the industry in Philadelphia, and by that means, but only incidentally, improving their own lot."

"NOT SO MUCH as an ear of corn or a single head of cabbage coming into this domain could be moved one inch except in the prescribed manner by the hierarchy without incurring their displeasure and inviting consequences of significant effect."

The committee said the union leaders used the "or else" technique of enforcing its demands, forcing reluctant members to join, collecting dues and fines and persuading merchants to take big advertisements in a union paper.

"When directed to a huckster, 'or else' meant anything from a vicious beating and mauling at the hands of the hierarchy's street patrol," the report said. "When directed to a merchant, 'or else' meant his business would be closed down. His operations would cease, and such merchandise as he had on hand would rot and rot. Moreover his employees would be fined."

NAMED, TOO was Fred Schleim "whose rise to eminence in the produce industry in Philadelphia was truly meteoric."

Phone Strike

would be likely to get worse if automatic systems broke down for lack of repair, attempted negotiations here and throughout the country to bring a back-to-work agreement from the disputing parties.

White House aides said President Truman was keeping an eye on the strike. But for the time being, at least, he was not intervening personally in the non-stop efforts of his labor department officials.

The Republican Congress also was watching the communications crisis. House GOP leaders generally deplored the strike. But they said there was little likelihood they would do anything about it unless the president personally asks congressional action.

SECRETARY OF Labor Lewis B. Schwellenbach failed in night-long efforts to wrest an agreement from the National Federation of Telephone Workers and the American Telephone and Telegraph Co. The union rejected his request for a 48-hour strike postponement.

But the conciliation efforts did not end. Hours after the strike started, Assistant Secretary of Labor John W. Gibson and Conciliation Director Edgar L. Warren kept representatives of long distance workers and the A. T. and T. in session.

The strike hit long distance service the worst. Telephone company officials in New York reported that only 742 of a normal force of 2,996 long distance operators across the nation had reported to work by 7:30 a.m. MST.

THE ISSUE was the union's demand for a $12 weekly wage increase and other contract improvements.

Unless telephone messages from here to the United States are in the "life or death" classification, they will not be accepted, it was learned on Monday. This is due to the nation-wide walkout of telephone operators in that country.

"WE ARE UNABLE to do business with the States" reported W. C. Bruce, deputy minister of telephones. "Any message will have to be a life or death one. Probably some supervisors have remained on the job to put through such emergency calls, as was done when they struck previously."

One call went through from Edmonton to Minneapolis on Monday morning, a long distance operator said, but no calls will be accepted for the eastern part of the States at all.

It is thought that the Minneapolis call went through before the six o'clock dead line in that city.

Airlines Company Names Manager

Jack Slichter of Denver, Col., has been appointed traffic manager for Western Airlines Inc., succeeding L. A. "Buck" Nichols, who will take a new position with the air lines in the United States.

Exact nature of Mr. Nichols' new post has not been announced by headquarters of the air lines in Los Angeles.

Mr. Slichter said he is not certain whether he will make his headquarters in Edmonton or Calgary but indicated if suitable office space can be obtained here, the headquarters for Canada will likely be in Edmonton.

Until recently Mr. Nichols has had his main office in Calgary, with a branch office in Edmonton.

Not For Me!

No work for Me After 60

Excellent resolution—fine! Made time and time again by a host of men (especially after a vacation). But you know how it is—a man in business today is bustling busy—so many other things to take care of, he just doesn't have time to do planning for that retirement he hopes for.

Anyway, he thinks he is going to be one of the 5 out of every 100 men statistics prove are going to be independent at age 65 (not the 28 that MUST work, or the 67 dependent on family or charity!)

But something must be done about your retirement, and done NOW—and through a Life Insurance Retirement Plan.

Moose Jaw Loses 4-2

Brandon Again 2 Up In West Junior Final

MOOSE JAW, Sask., April 7 —(CP)— Sparked by Walt Hergesheimer, who figured in three goals, Brandon Elks defeated Moose Jaw Canucks, 4-2, in the fifth game of a best-of-seven series for the Western Canada junior hockey title here Saturday night before a sellout crowd of more than 3,500 fans. The sixth game will be played at Regina Tuesday.

The triumph gave the Manitoba champions a virtual stranglehold on the Abbott Cup, emblematic of western junior supremacy, they chalked up 2-1 and 9-1 victories at Winnipeg and earned a 3-3 tie and now need only a tie to end the series. Canucks won the fourth game 5-3.

HERGESHEIMER tallied two goals for the Elks and assisted linemate Ray Manson in another. Gordie Waters accounted for the fourth goal. Vic Krekiewicz and Hal Tarala were the Moose Jaw marksmen.

It was a night of lost opportunities for the Saskatchewan list. They carried the play most of the way but were unable to put the puck into the net because of erratic shooting and Ray McDermid's brilliant netminding.

Each team scored once in the first period. Krekiewicz opening for Moose Jaw on a pass from Jerry Prystai at 9:11 only to have Brandon come back 40 seconds later, Manson teaming with Hergesheimer.

In the second period Canucks carried the play but Elks did the scoring as Hergesheimer registered twice. The teams split two goals in the final 20 minutes. Waters netting for Brandon and Tarala for Moose Jaw.

In the Brandon dressing room where the happy Elks were whooping it up, Coach Ross Nicholson cautioned his players: "The series isn't in the bag. This Moose Jaw team is plenty tough."

The Brandon mentor had words of praise for the Saskatchewan title holder. "They're easily the best team we've run into this season."

BRANDON—McDermid; Kaiser, Johnson, Dunsmore; Evans, Waters, Suba; Burman, Manson, Hergesheimer, Tergeson, Schmeil, Campbell, Mann.

MOOSE JAW—Bentley; Tarala, Bedard; Prystai; Krekiewicz, Hooks, Suba; Stein, Wilson, E. Lovett; Huchuk, G. Lovett, Wylie, Thompson.

Officials—Pep Moon, Edmonton, and Chuck Hodgson, Port Arthur.

FIRST PERIOD: 1-Moose Jaw, Krekiewicz (Prystai) 3:15. Penalties—Manson (Hergesheimer) 9:31. Penalty—Stein.

SECOND PERIOD: 3-Brandon, Hergesheimer (Burman) 2:32; 4-Brandon, Hergesheimer (Manson) 12:15. Penalties—Tergeson, H. Lovett.

THIRD PERIOD: 3-Brandon, Waters (Evans) 3:11; 6-Moose Jaw, Tarala 17:12. Penalties—Kaiser, Juckes, Manson, Waters, H. Lovett.

Vancouver Girls Cop Hoop Crown

VANCOUVER, April 7 —(CP)— Vancouver Nut House won the senior Canadian women's basketball championship here Saturday night when they defeated Winnipeg 72-35, winning the series in three straight games. The Nut House club had won the first two games 31-15 and 41-20.

Although it was the first year that the Nut House team had won the title, it was the sixth straight year that the same group of girls had won the crown, the previous five years under the name of Hedlunds. However the mark falls far short of the string marked up by the famed Edmonton Grads.

Vancouver—Bell (4), McDermott, Stoddard, Smith (4), Fairweather (2), McKenzie, Cuthbert (3), Styles, Turner (1), Total 25.

Winnipeg—Hibner, Robertson, Dunchak (3), Ferris (4), Shero (3), McDougall, Cuthbert (3), Styles, Turner (1), Total 35.

Referee—George Siborne, Umpire—Bill Wilcox.

Winnipeg Cagers To Meet Raymond

REGINA, April 7—(CP)—Winnipeg St. Andrews walloped the Regina Army and Navy Veterans 79-50 here Saturday night to win their two-game total-point interprovincial senior men's basketball series by 65 points. The Andies won the opening game 82-46 here Friday

Los Angeles Takes Coast Hockey Crown

PORTLAND, Ore., April 7 —(AP)— The Los Angeles Monarchs captured the Pacific Coast Hockey League championship Saturday night by defeating the Portland Eagles, 5-4, to sweep the title series with four straight victories.

Portland tied the score twice as the Eagles fought to stave off the Monarchs but the team they were unable to beat at any time this year played the same brand of fast, close checking hockey that carried them easily through the initial games of the four in seven playoff series.

THE PACIFIC TITLE gives the Monarchs the playoff spot with Boston Olympics for the National Amateur championships.

Los Angeles succeeds Vancouver as Coast League champions, and when they go east for the American finals, they will attempt to keep the Walter A. Brown Memorial trophy, now held by the Canadian team, in the west for the third straight year. Seattle Ironmen won the Cup in 1945.

Duck Hunting Season Will Be Shortened

OTTAWA, April 7 —(CP)— The Canadian duck hunting season will be shortened and the bag limit reduced from last year in the light of the US Fish and Wildlife Service survey that there are only 54,000,000 ducks and geese on the North American continent, an official of the Wild Life Protection division of the mines and resources department said last night.

Commenting on the agency's figures released at Washington which showed a decrease of 26,000,000 from last year—the greatest one-year decline on record, a division spokesman said he did not know just what reduction would have to be made in season and bag "but there most certainly will have to be a cut."

LAST YEAR HUNTERS were allowed 12 ducks a day in most provinces, with 150 in a season. The spokesman said the division would make no decision until it had conferred with game departments of the provinces in the light of the Washington figures.

"If conditions are really good for ducks they raise a lot of young and come back fast," the spokesman said. "But with conditions such as they have been," the duck population drops quickly and especially when their population is at a low point."

HE ADDED that although there would be a more severe limit, there would be no complete closure on duck hunting such as proposed by the Audubon Society recently in Washington.

NECESSARY TO CURTAIL SEASON IN STATES

WASHINGTON, April 7 (AP)— Albert M. Day, director of the US Fish and Wildlife Service said Sunday it probably will be necessary to curtail but not close completely—the waterfowl hunting season in the United States next fall.

DAY BASED HIS estimate on the agency's annual waterfowl inventory which placed the North American population of Ducks and geese at 54,000,000. This is 26,000,000 less than in January, 1946.

This is the greatest one-year decline in waterfowl population on record, the agency said.

"In spite of the fact that waterfowl numbers have fallen almost to the 1939 total, I do not now think it will be necessary to establish a complete closed season for next fall," Day said.

"I THINK WE WILL be able to recommend some kind of an open season, but what it will be depends largely upon conditions in the breeding grounds next summer. Day recalled that in the extreme dry year of 1935, when the duck population was only half as large as today a break in the drought and a season limited to 30 days led to a satisfactory increase. The government prohibited shooting of certain species that year, and began establishing refuges.

The Audubon Society recently recommended that no duck hunting whatever be allowed next fall.

Pittsburgh Takes Lead in AHL Final

PITTSBURGH, April 7 —(CP)— Pittsburgh Hornets took a 2-1 lead in games in their best-of-seven American Hockey League final Saturday night with a 5-1 victory over Hershey Bears.

The Hornets sewed up the game with four late goals after Pete Babando's third-period marker gave Hershey a 1-1 tie. Pete Langelle counted twice and Bill Benson and Jackie Hamilton counted singles in the Pittsburgh flurry. Wally Wilson scored the fifth goal early in the first frame.

Tourmalines are found in western United States, South Africa, the Urals, Brazil, Madagascar and Siberia.

Demaret Captures Masters Tourney

AUGUSTA, Ga., April 7 (AP)— Jimmy Demaret, shooting a one-under par 71—his fourth consecutive sub-par round—won the $10,000 masters golf tournament yesterday with a 72-hole score of 281. He became the third player in history to win the event twice.

Demaret, the leading money winner of the year, added $2,500 to his earnings for a season total of $13,111 in repeating his triumph in the 1940 event. His score that year was 280.

DEMARET LED from the start—although tied the first day with Byron Nelson and with Cary Midgoff at the halfway mark. He had consecutive rounds of 69-71-70 over the 6,800-yard national course.

Nelson and Frank Stranahan deadlocked for second with 283. Nelson, masters winner in 1937 and 1942, shot a 70 yesterday. Stranahan, his amateur pupil, had the day's best round—a 68.

HAROLD McSpaden, tied with Nelson for second place at the start of the last round—three strokes back of Demaret—tied Ben Hogan for fourth place with a 71 for a 284 total. Hogan had a 70 yesterday.

Herman Keiser the defending champion, was never a threat to repeat and his 72 Sunday was his best for the tournament, giving him a 284 total.

Bobby Locke, the South African champion, posted a 70 for his best round to wind up with 289. Bobby Jones, the famed grand slammer, shot an 80—highest in all his competitive years—for a 312, another new high for him.

Edmonton Wins Chess Tourney

Edmonton chess players defeated Calgary in the annual provincial tournament held at Red Deer on Friday by a margin of one point.

Ten players were on each team and the winners retain the Birks trophy for another year, continuing an unbroken string since 1928. Edmonton won the toss and Walter Holowach, provincial champion, chose white for his team.

One point is given for a win and one-half point for a draw or stalemate. The final score was 5½ to 4½.

Stampeders Soar To Western Final

Desmarais' Goal Beats Kimberley 4-3 in 6th Game

CALGARY, April 7 —(CP)— Calgary Stampeders advanced to the Western Canada hockey final, defeating Kimberley Dynamiters 4-3 here Saturday night, taking three straight games to win the best-of-seven series after trailing by 2-1 in games. They meet Winnipeg Flyers in the Western final.

Bunny Dame opened the scoring in the first two minutes of play when a relay from Tony Desmarais and Doug Cairns had him home free from the blue line in. Bunny made no mistake with his close-in shot that left goalie Jake Nash with no chance to save.

Art Shquist finished off a three-way passing play with Desmarais and Cairns for another well earned marker. After a spell of short-handed hockey with penalties to Swaney and then Shquist, Calgary added a third goal. Desmarais found the help on a break made possible by a Shquist pass. Michaluk and Brown served penalties before the close of the period.

Buck Kavanaugh and Sandy Sanderson finished off scoring assaults on relays from Benny Redick and Harry Brown for a brace of well taken goals to put Kimberley back in the running, for Dynamiters were only a score down entering the third period. Kimberley scored early in the third when Jack Forsey took his time on a play with Wilson to beat Derby. Calgary was back in the lead in another couple of minutes when Desmarais figured in the fourth Calgary goal. Tony took a pass from Bunny Dame and caught the lower right corner of the net with a back hand shot.

KIMBERLEY—Nash; Swaney, Brown, Redick, Johnson, Kavanaugh, Clements, Wilson, Forsey, Jones.

CALGARY—Dertell; Michaluk, Shquist; Cairns, Dame, Desmarais, Suba, Junior, Grant, Brownridge, Emery, Craddock, Wilder, French.

Officials—Lyndon, Ost.

FIRST PERIOD: 1-Calgary, Dame (Cairns, Desmarais) 2:05; 3-Calgary, Shquist (Desmarais) 6:11; 3-Calgary, Desmarais (Shquist) 12:30. Penalties—Swaney, Desmarais, Michaluk, Brown.

SECOND PERIOD: 4-Kimberley, Kavanaugh (Redick) 3:45; 5-Kimberley, Sanderson (Brown) 17:07. Penalties—Emery, Brown, Michaluk, Redick.

THIRD PERIOD: 6-Kimberley, Forsey (Wilson) 2:34; 7-Calgary, Desmarais, (Dame) 7:12. Penalties—Swaney, Brown.

Gus Marker Quits As Tulsa Coach

TULSA, Okla., April 7 (AP)— Gus Marker, coach and manager of Tulsa Oilers in the United States Hockey League for the last two years, said last night he has resigned, effective immediately, because of friction with Toronto Maple Leafs, National League club with which the Oilers have a working agreement.

Marker said he found it impossible to work satisfactorily with the Toronto club for which he played three seasons during his active National League playing career.

SAM AVEY, Tulsa club owner, said he accepted Marker's resignation with regret but felt the club's connection with Toronto was necessary to assure good hockey for Tulsa.

Marker charged the Leafs failed to live up to an agreement to provide Tulsa with a minimum of eight players "and more if needed."

The Oilers finished in a third-place tie in the 1945-46 season, losing to Kansas City in the league's playoff finals. The club finished third in the southern division this year and lost to Fort Worth in the opening playoff series.

All-Canadian Cup Final

Nick Metz Sets Pace As Leafs Oust Wings

By Fraser MacDougall

TORONTO, April 7 —(CP)— Nick Metz, 33-year-old Wilcox, Sask., wheat farmer led Toronto Maple Leafs to a 6-1 conquest of Detroit Red Wings before 13,895 fans Saturday night to put Toronto into the Stanley Cup final against Montreal Canadiens for the first all-Canadian final in 12 years.

Metz scored two goals and assisted on two others and generally provided the spark which enabled Leafs to eliminate the Red Wings in the best-of-seven semi-final, four games to one. Canadiens won the other semi-final from Boston Bruins by a similar margin.

CLARENCE CAMPBELL, National Hockey League president, announced Sunday the series will open in Montreal next Tuesday and Thursday. The teams return to Toronto for games April 12 and 15 and if extra games are necessary they will be played in Montreal April 17, Toronto April 19, and Montreal April 22. The opening dates differed from those agreed upon immediately after Saturday's contest when manager Dick Irvin of Canadiens said the series would likely open in Montreal next Thursday.

The last time two Canadian teams met for the trophy which Lord Stanley, later the Earl of Derby, donated as governor-general of Canada in 1893 was in 1935 when Montreal Maroons defeated Leafs three straight in a best-of-five series.

RED WINGS LOST their rookie goaltender, Ralph (Red) Almas in the first period of Saturday night's game. The boy from Saskatoon who spent the season with Indianapolis in the American Hockey League and was called into action because of an injury to Harry Lumley, pulled a muscle in his leg stopping a shot from Leaf defenceman Garth Boesch.

Johnny Mowers, road secretary of the Detroit club and one of Hockey's best goaltenders before he joined the Royal Canadian Air Force in 1943, donned the pads. Mowers, who failed in an attempted comeback this season, appeared jittery at times but made several stops in his old jumping-jack style.

Leafs scored one goal against Almas and five against Mowers.

DETROIT — Almas; J. Stewart, Quackenbush; McFadden; Horack, Lindsay, Suba-Reise, McCaig, Taylor, R. Conacher, Howe, Lundy, J. Conacher, Miller, Scisizzi, Gauthier, Mowers (sub-goal).

TORONTO—Broda; Morton, Thomson; Apps; Ezinkich, Watson, Suba-Loesch, Barliko, Stanowski, Kennedy, Meeker, Lynn, J. Metz, Klukay, G. Stewart, D. Metz.

Referee—Charwick; Linesman, Get-life, Babcock.

FIRST PERIOD: 1-Toronto, N. Metz (Morton) 11:51; 2-Toronto, Klukay (Thomson) 16:00; 3-Detroit, Gauthier 17:31. Penalties—Barliko, Lindsay, Ezinkich, Lynn, J. Conacher.

SECOND PERIOD: 4-Toronto, D. Metz (N. Metz) 4:36; 5-Toronto, G. Stewart (N. Metz) 13:17. Penalties—Howe, Ezinkich, J. Stewart.

THIRD PERIOD: 6-Toronto, N. Metz (Boesch) 8:22; 7-Toronto, Apps 14:37. Penalties—Reise, G. Stewart, McCaig, Howe, J. Stewart.

Canadian Horse Wins Cedar Manor

NEW YORK, April 7 (CP)—E. P. Taylor's Cornish Knight—sole Canadian—owned horse eligible for this year's Kentucky Derby—Saturday beat off five other derby hopefuls to win the Cedar Manor sprint at Jamaica's opening program.

The Cedar Manor, a 5 ½-furlong allowance event, was the co-feature of the day.

Kansas City Ousts Fort Worth 4-1

FORT WORTH, Tex., April 7 (CP)—Kansas City Pla-Mors won the right to oppose Omaha Knights in the United States Hockey League finals last night by defeating Fort Worth Rangers 4-1 to win their best-of-five semi-final round three games to one.

Johnson, Mitchell, Blade and Butler were the Pla-Mor marksmen while Sawyer counted for the losers.

King Clancy Offered Chicago Coaching Job

TORONTO, April 7 (CP)—Frank (King) Clancy, best-respected referee in big-time hockey, will coach Chicago Black Hawks in the 1947-48 National League campaign if he wants the job.

Bill Tobin, who went to Chicago years ago without a purse to put his penny in and wound up owning the Hawks, wants to acquire the "inspirational qualities" of the Ottawa Irishman on his team's bench.

THE KING is interested and talked it over with Tobin at the Red Wings-Toronto Maple Leafs playoff games in Detroit, but before making a decision he wants to talk it over with "Mrs. C."

"I have been looking for a coach with inspirational qualities," said Tobin, "and my choice finally settled on Clancy. I think he is the type. I believe he can inspire players from the bench as he used to do on the ice."

Meanwhile the present Hawks mentor, Johnny Gottselig, has no worries about his immediate future. The angular Russian who saw his team finish last in the six-team NHL this season, will move "inside" with the Chicago organization if Clancy accepts the coaching post.

CLANCY HAS BEEN offered a fat contract, providing more cash than he makes at present as the king-pin of the league's refereeing system. But he's well settled in Ottawa where he is a director of his uncle's contracting business and a move would mean a realigning of family life. (The Clancys have three young daughters).

If Clancy accepts, he will be taking his second fling at NHL coaching. He had a brief spell as master-mind of the old Montreal Maroons but didn't seem too keen on the job and checked out of hockey for a while before he was persuaded to return as a whistle toter.

Sports Round Up

BY ALAN HARVEY

NEW YORK, April 7 (CP)—One of the few things it's safe to say about the 1947 Kentucky Derby at this early date is that the province of Alberta is almost sure to get a piece of publicity out of it somewhere along the line... with the running of the blue grass classic just a month away, two jockeys who were born and raised in Alberta appear certain to have mounts that will carry a lot of support at Churchill Downs when the band plays "My Old Kentucky Home"...

Doug Dodson, a native of Westlock who learned to ride in Oregon, is contract rider for the powerful Calumet Farm owned by Warren Wright of Chicago and will have his choice between Fervent and Faultless, both right up there with W. G. Helli's Cosmic Bomb as early favorites in the winter book.

THE OTHER ALBERTA-grown pilot is 27-year-old Al Snider of Calgary, finally getting the breaks after nine years in the saddle. Currently leading rider at Gulfstream Park in Florida, Snider has given Wright first call on his services and thus may ride either Fervent or Faultless, depending on Dodson's choice... if only one of the Calumet pair starts, Snider will be aboard either Phalanx or Bastogne, owned by C. V. Whitney.

JOHNNY LONGDEN hasn't announced whether he plans to ride in the derby but if he does he will probably be up on Earl Stice's On Trust, winner of the Santa Anita Derby and considered the best of the three-year-old prospects from the west coast... Longden can't be claimed as a native of Alberta, because he was born in Wakefield, Eng., but Johnny lived in Alberta and learned to ride there before he headed for the big money.

IT'S HARD TO GET off the subject of jockeys and Alberta without a reference to the late George Woolf, killed in a spill in January, 1945, at Santa Anita... one of the greatest jockeys of them all, Woolf was from Cardston and rode with Longden when they were kids... some racing men didn't like "The Iceman," as Woolf was called, but none questioned his courage and his fire.

Fans Crash Gate; 75 Persons Hurt

PORT SAID, Egypt, April 7 (AP)—Seventy-five persons were injured, 10 of them seriously, Saturday when police clashed with sports fans attempting to see a boxing bout without paying.

The outbreak began when hundreds of fans attempted to break into the Ferial Theatre where Arifa El Said, champion of the Near East, was scheduled to fight Mohamed Farag, Egypt's champion.

The policemen opened fire after members of the crowd attacked them with clubs and stones. Forty fans were wounded.

The units of weight in India are the seer (roughly two pounds) and the maund (40 seers to the maund).

HAWK COACH Frank (King) Clancy, noted National Hockey League referee since his retirement as a player, has been offered the coaching job of the Chicago Black Hawks, who finished last in the league race this season. Clancy hasn't made any decision yet.

Hamilton Tigers Win Ontario Crown

TIMMINS, Ont., April 7 (CP)—The veteran Hamilton Tigers won their third straight Ontario Senior hockey title Saturday night, downing Hollinger Greenhorns 6-1 to win their best-of-five series three games to one. Tigers open a best-of-five eastern semi-final series at Hamilton Tuesday night.

Doug Runions paced the winners with the two goals, with Cadieux, Mason, Peer and Dinning getting the others. Pirie was the lone Hollinger marksman.

CUT DOWN ON TAKING LAXATIVES THIS WAY

See How Regular You Can Be Every Morning

Try taking Carter's Pills this way: Start with 3 and set a definite time every morning. When you get regular every morning, cut down to 2. After a few days, try 1. Then... taking Carter's every other day. You may even find you can keep regular without any laxative. You see, Carter's are so tiny you can cut down the dose—from 3 to 1—to fit the need for your individual system. Without disappointment. Carter's help clean out your intestinal tract not halfway, but thoroughly. They are doubly effective because made with two vegetable herbs compounded properly for thorough, easy action. Thousands can cut down on laxative doing the Carter way. Ask for Carter's Pills by name to get the genuine at any drugstore—35¢, 70¢, $1.00. Start the Carter way today. No method tonight and jump out of bed tomorrow rarin' to go.

License Controls Eased by Ottawa

OTTAWA, April 7 (CP)—The suspension of price controls last week on a wide variety of goods today prompted the board of officials to announce that effective immediately only persons or businesses dealing in goods or services still under control will need prices board licenses. Formerly licenses were required for practically all types and kinds of businesses.

THE PRESENT change will affect the issuance of new licenses and amendments only, said board officials. No attempt will be made to reclaim or cancel licenses already issued which no longer are required under the new regulations—they will be allowed to lapse.

Despite the fact that now there will be many firms dealing exclusively in commodities or services not subject to control, officials said it is necessary to retain licensing in order that new entrants into business, where controlled commodities are to be sold, may have price fixations placed upon their goods, and obtain their allotments of rationed goods.

Denounce Aid Plan

LLANDUDNO, Wales, April 7.—(AP)—Britain's Co-Operative party today condemned American aid to Greece as a "menace to world peace." A resolution denouncing President Truman's plan was adopted by a show of hands at the party's annual conference here despite resistance from the executive committee.

Will Not Revalue Canadian Dollar

OTTAWA, April 7 (CP)—Take the word of the financial wizards in the know—there's no action pending to revalue the Canadian dollar, now placed at a par with United States funds.

DURING THE LAST week rumors were current of government action to deal with the rapid depreciation in Canada's reserve of United States dollars; the weakness in the Canadian dollar in the open market in New York where it sells at a discount of more than seven per cent; and the United Kingdom's inroads into the $1,250,000,000 loan from Canada.

As a result of these reports, prices on the Toronto and Montreal exchanges stiffened last Wednesday and held firm on Thursday, the last pre-holiday trading day. These trends re-instituted the months-long rumor that the government planned to revalue downward the Canadian dollar, which the foreign exchange control board now holds at a parity with the United States dollar. The experts maintain that a revaluation isn't on the books—at least not immediately.

15,000 Unemployed In Montreal Area

MONTREAL, April 7.—(CP)—Approximately 14,500 men and about 800 women are out of work in the Montreal district, an Unemployment Insurance Commission report showed Sunday. An official said the total for men represented a drop of about 1,000 from the previous week.

THE UNITED STATES MILITARY ACADEMY

West Point is the familiar name for the United States Military Academy at West Point, N.Y.—famous government school to train young men to be officers in the U.S. Army. It is situated on the Hudson River, 30 miles above New York City, at a place where the river breaks through the Highlands in the winding gap. On the west bank, the land juts out in a point, and from this came the name West Point.

Here, at the beginning of the Revolution, several fortifications were built. It was these that Benedict Arnold intended to betray to the British. Later, the name was changed to Fort Clinton. At the end of the Revolution, the American Army was reduced to only 80 men, and these were stationed at Fort Clinton.

At West Point, every cadet is called upon to recite nearly every day in every course. Most of the instructors are Army officers.

When Washington became President, he wished to establish a training school for officers, but very little was done. After Jefferson had become President, the Academy was founded—on March 16, 1802. In the War of 1812 the cadets were called upon to serve and the Academy almost died, since no appointments were made, and in 1817 the school was placed upon a firm basis. President Monroe appointed Col. Sylvanus Thayer as superintendent. Col. Thayer who reorganized the school, is known as the Father of the Military Academy.

Under the present law there may be, when all vacancies are filled, 2,496 cadets. Four are appointed by each member of the House of Representatives; 4 by each Senator; 4 each from Hawaii, Alaska and Puerto Rico; 6 from the District of Columbia; and 2 from the Canal Zone. The President selects about 90; the Vice-President chooses 3. Forty are appointed from graduates of certain military schools; 180 from the Regular Army and the National Guard together; 40 from the sons of World War I and II veterans.

(Copyright 1944, by The Grolier Society Inc., based upon The Book of Knowledge, Distributed by the United Feature Syndicate, Inc.)

At the end of two years, if his record is clear, a cadet has a vacation, or furlough, for the summer. The other summers are spent in camp, where there are no lessons from books, but much practical training.

Everything is done under strict military discipline. Cadets always wear uniform, and march to the door of the recitation room. The instructor is usually an army officer. A student is called upon to recite nearly every day, in every course.

The West Point system and its character-building objective are best summed up in the motto of the Corps of Cadets—"Duty, Honor, Country." They are commanded by cadet officers. These officers are chosen from the students of highest standing. The cadet is taught that no man is fit to command who has not learned to obey. When he gets his diploma, he is commissioned a second lieutenant in the United States Army.

Employers Must Report Vacancies

OTTAWA, April 7.—(CP)—The labor department gave advance notice to employers Saturday that new regulations would soon be issued requiring them to report to the National Employment Service all job vacancies which have not been filled 24 hours after their occurrence.

IN ADDITION, employers will be required to turn in reports twice a year indicating staff changes during the intervening period. The regulations, recommended by the Unemployment Insurance Commission, will be issued under authority of an amendment made last year to the Unemployment Insurance Act.

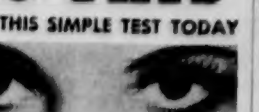

Commenting on the announcement, Arthur MacNamara, deputy minister of labor, said the regulations represented "about the minimum of co-operation from employers consistent with a proper organization of the employment market and the maintenance by the national employment service of an opportunity to provide work for job applicants."

ALSO ANNOUNCED was a cancellation of the wartime regulation requiring employers and employees in certain industries to give seven days' notice before separation.

German Torturer Gets Life Term

FRANKFURT, April 7.—(Reuters)—Eduard Guertel, an official at the Floridsdorf concentration camp was sentenced Saturday to life imprisonment by the Dachau military court, after he had been convicted of unleashing a dog on a Polish prisoner, hanging him with his own hands in a camp hut, and of causing the death of another prisoner by forcing him on to electrically-charged wiring.

Plymouth Slashes Price All Models

DETROIT, April 7.—(AP)—Price reductions ranging from $25 to $55 on Plymouth passenger automobiles were announced Sunday by Chrysler Corp.

PLYMOUTH thus becomes the second leading car maker to announce price slashes this year. The Ford Motor Co. previously reduced the listing on its Ford line from $15 to $50.

The Plymouth reductions were announced without comment and came as negotiations were pending with the United Automobile Workers' Union (CIO) over wage increase demands and other contract changes.

The Plymouth slash, like that announced last January by Henry Ford 2nd, Ford Motor Company president, was contrary to the general trend in the car industry, which has seen retail prices mount steadily since price control was removed.

EARLIER THIS week Hudson announced a price increase, attributing it to mounting production costs. Kaiser-Frazer also announced a price increase recently. Shortly after Ford's price reduction was announced, General Motors increased retail listings on several of its models but left its Chevrolet price schedule unchanged.

Reach Aircraft Lost for Month

BATAVIA, April 7.—(Reuters)—A Dutch rescue party Sunday reached the burned wreckage of the Dutch DC-3, sighted from the air Saturday on a mountain side near Bandoeng, Java, after being missing, with 24 passengers aboard, since March 12. The aircraft which belongs to the Dutch East Indies Air Force, was missed on a 20-minute flight from Batavia to Bandoeng. All occupants are feared lost.

EDMONTONIANS JOIN IN EASTER PARADE: Skies cleared on Sunday afternoon and Edmontonians flocked outside to enjoy the warm sunshine. In all sections of the city, residents turned out to take part in the parade, in which many new coats and hats were seen. The above scenes show some of the paraders. In the picture at the left, Mrs. R. Bouchard, whose home is located in the Exhibition Grounds, is seen obviously pleased with her bouquet of Easter flowers. The picture second from the left shows Mr. and Mrs. L. McCormick, 9643 105 street, all smiles as the sun beamed down on them. Next, Connie Weir, 10717 81 avenue, is being assisted from a Low Level Bridge bus by Wil-

Our Town

By Jack Scott

Blind Spot

The newspapers and their by-products, such as this daily pillar of type, chronicle the day-to-day story of a city and its people, recording fact and anecdote and movement. We listen to the voices and write down the words. We watch the scene and describe it. We scent the transient stuff called news and package it for delivery to the doorstep.

We miss out on only one thing. No newspaper seems able to tell the story of the soul-deep aspirations and dreams of the ordinary people. The immense news of what goes on in the minds of the individual remains clearly the property of novelist and poet.

As individuals we know that each of our friends and neighbors has a far bigger story than the butter and egg prices or the luncheon speech at the Kiwanis club. Yet there is no place in the news columns for it.

For many newspaper people this remains a life-long enigma. There is a sense of frustration for the wildest obituary writer who types as daily list of the departed in the cryptic, stylized language of that department, knowing that each paragraph holds the raw material for a book. No good reporter writes the bald fact of any story without a deep, unspoken urge to probe deeper into the thoughts of the people involved.

Saintliness

On the fiftieth wedding anniversary of an old couple who live in an ancient house in the city, I was with a photographer who went to take a picture, a routine assignment.

There was a saintliness and peace about these old folk, apparently unhampered by the fact that the husband was blind. I waited while the photographer took his picture and got the facts. The story would be told in the 60-odd words beneath a two-column cut.

When we had got outside the house the photographer turned and brushed. "There must be quite a story there," he said, "and nobody will ever write it."

My father was a newspaperman for about 40 years and a good one, but he never wrote the story that interested him most. He had a life-long curiosity about the places that people live in. A lonely farmhouse, seen from a passing train, an

Thieves Get Soft Drinks

Probably the thirst for something better to steal prompted prowlers to help themselves to three bottles of soft drink, after ransacking drawers and a safe in the Institute of Applied Arts building, 10042 109 street, over the week-end.

Parts of three bottles of pop were reported missing, after four offices were entered. Manager of the Institute Press, W. C. Richards, said that his office in the building was entered. Leo Ayotte, an accountant, who has an office in the building, and the drawers of his desk were forced open and ransacked, while the same story was heard from N. W. Dubois, superintendent of the Northland Utilities Limited who also has an office in the building.

old mansion in the West End or a shack in a culvert would be enough to whet the blade of his curiosity.

Where did the people come from? What did they do with their lives? What was the purpose behind their day-to-day living? He would gaze at an unusual home with the same interest and look of inquiry that less-imaginative men reserve for the bright jacket of a new novel.

Frustrated Feeling

When you write for a living it is impossible to avoid that kind of question. Riding into work in the mornings with the notes of a column on, say a tattoo artist, I get a frustrated feeling of being a million miles from the actual pulse of the city.

Watching the swarms of people coming down to the city's main arteries, the idea is inescapable that each one of these people, like yourself, is a complicated, highly individualistic personality whose stories will never be told.

No story of a tattoo artist would have the emotional impact of the humanity that might be found behind the blank, newly-shaven and newly-powdered faces of the mass of the early morning street riders. But the story is doomed to be locked there for ever.

None of these average people will ever be in the newspaper unless they fall from a high building or grow a 15-foot hollyhock, are run over on Jasper avenue or live to be 90 years old.

The Heart-beat

Yet they, and not the recorded voices and the pictured scene, are the heart-beat of the city. The story of any one of these people, told in its naked truth, would give historians of a hundred years from now a picture of the mood and tempo and philosophy of today that will be found in no newspaper.

So, tomorrow, I will step up to someone in the street, some plain fellow with that faintly worried, restless look in his eyes, perhaps needing a haircut or on his way to the dentist or going out for his 30-cent lunch, and say, "I want the news story of your aspirations and dreams and the daily life you lead and why you are doing what you are and what you want of it."

But I know that won't. I will wait for him to grow the hollyhock.

Many Articles Reported Stolen

Seven persons reported a wide variety of articles stolen to city police during the week-end.

AN AUTOMOBILE owned by Irvin Kremaster, 8556 98A avenue, was stolen between 9 and 9:30 p.m. Saturday from in front of the Trocadero ballroom on 163 street. The vehicle carries license number 32-537.

Henry Chan, 104 street and 82 avenue, told police his room was entered Saturday and the following articles are missing: mantle radio, suitcase, alarm clock and leather wallet.

Between $60 and $70 in cash was stolen from a wallet owned by Herman Selin, Hay Lakes, while in a beverage room on Saturday.

PETER BERZOWSKI, Granada, told police that $86 in cheques, and $41 in cash, was either lost or stolen.

About $20 in cash is reported to have been taken from a room occupied by Mrs. Betty Scott at 9271 110A avenue.

Josephine Wilfingsneider, 9640 102A avenue, told police that several garments were stolen from her clothesline.

Zenial Figol, 9727 110 street, said he parked his bicycle outside of a theatre Saturday, and it was stolen.

SEVERAL MEETINGS of a provincial salary schedule committee were held last summer and fall.

At Annual Convention

Say Teacher Shortage Most Urgent Problem

The teacher shortage continues to be the most pressing educational problem of the times, and is attracting much public attention throughout Canada and the United States, H. C. Melness, president of the Alberta Teachers' Association, said in his report to the annual convention of the association at the Macdonald hotel Monday morning.

MR. MELNESS said that Alberta has no definite teacher recruitment plan to meet the present emergency, but a number of expedients are being tried.

The minister of education announced that there would be an increase in teachers' pensions after April 1, which would make the pensions $40 a month. He also gave the assurance that when the civil service pension plan was revised by the Legislature, consideration would be given to improve the teachers' scheme, said Mr. Melness.

but all attempts to evolve a provincial schedule have proved unsuccessful, and nothing further has been done, said Mr. Melness.

At a special meeting of the councilors held last January a minimum salary which teachers should seek in negotiations for 1947-48 was set at $1,500. A scale of increments for experience, and qualifications was also set up.

THE BUSINESS session of the convention commenced at 10 a.m. this morning with Mayor Harry Ainlay giving a warm welcome to the councilors on behalf of the city, and Hon. R. E. Ansley minister of education, for the department, and province.

Approximately 200 councilors from many parts of the province were on hand, and are confident of clearing up many important resolutions, pertaining to their profession, during the three-day convention.

A big program has been planned, which includes a banquet and dance, Tuesday evening. The counting of ballots, and the installation of the new executives will highlight the proceedings Wednesday.

URGES EMPLOYMENT PERSONS OVER 45—Re-education of the general public and employers of "dead-end" work in particular, as to the urgent necessity of employing more people over the age of 45, is the mission of Col. P. J. Philpott, special advisor to the deputy minister of Veterans Affairs, who is an Edmonton visitor Monday.

Accompanied by Mrs. Philpott, a nursing sister veteran of the last war in the Middle East and Western Europe, Col. Philpott said there are 9,900 war veterans over the age of 45 in Canada who are being shut off from employment.

These men can do many jobs now going to younger men and Col. Philpott says that the problem is very serious. "Either these men must be found jobs or they must be kept by the country," he said.

ANNUAL MEETING—The annual meeting of the British Imperial Veterans' Association, Edmonton branch, will be held in the Social Credit hall on Jasper avenue at 8:30 p.m. Wednesday. The meeting will feature the election of officers.

AUTO DAMAGED—Albert Whitty, 11069 96 street, reported a case of vandalism to city police. He said that while his auto was parked on the Sales lot of the West End Motor Supply, five windows, the windshield, and both headlights were broken.

Agriculturist Visiting City

Visiting Canadian agricultural officials, after a recent food and agriculture meeting at Washington, Dr. Isabella Leitch, Aberdeen, Scotland, director of the Imperial Bureau of Animal Nutrition, was an Edmonton visitor Monday.

Dr. Leitch said she was in Canada as a guest of the Dominion department of agriculture and is visiting experimental farms and universities prior to returning to Britain.

She was met at the Macdonald hotel by Dr. R. D. Sinclair, dean of the faculty of agriculture, at the University of Alberta.

She plans to confer with agricultural research officials at the university and later visit Lacombe and Lethbridge experimental farms.

"I am interested in Canadian food production and animal nutrition. I find you are far ahead of Britain in this work," she said.

3 Fire Calls Over Week End

Firemen responded to three fire calls between Saturday noon and Monday morning. Only minor damage was caused.

The most serious of the trio was an automobile which caught fire about 6:30 a.m. Monday in a garage at 11309 72 street. The vehicle is owned by S. C. Gee. Firemen from Halls Nos. 5 and 7 responded under Deputy Chief William Ferguson, and removed the auto from the garage.

The fire is believed to have been caused by a short circuit in the auto wiring.

At 10:45 a.m. Sunday No. 2 hall responded to extinguish a fire in a mattress at 9919 106 street, and about two hours later it was reported that a chimney was on fire at 12347 Fort Road.

Easter Services Draw Large Congregations

It was not until well into the afternoon Easter Sunday that the reluctant mercury peered over the edge of freezing point and the sun broke through the clouds to light up and warm up the scene. But a brisk, chill morning breeze did not deter thousands of Edmonton worshippers from attending the churches of their choice, where in song and hopeful sermon, they learned again the message of the Resurrection of Christ.

NOT EVEN for early morning services, while the temperature was still low and the biting wind was strong, did the women forget that the day was the one for display of new spring clothes.

Those charming concoctions of straw flower and feather, namely Easter bonnets, were worn in spite of the weather and formed a suitable background for the flowers decorating pulpits and altars of city churches.

Spring suits and dresses, were of necessity covered by utilitarian coats during the walk to morning services, but later in the afternoon, when the sun broke through, many new dresses appeared.

THOUSANDS of people appeared in the sunlight on Jasper avenue and other streets of the city, calling on friends, or just strolling to see, and be seen.

Golfers, too, were out on the links for a whirl at the game. Most city courses were filled.

Motorists who had planned trips to the country delayed their journeys, though a few hardy souls took a chance on the muddy roads.

CHURCH SERVICES at Jasper Place United Church had a special significance, since the congregation's new building was formally opened, and dedicated during the day. Greetings from other church organizations were delivered by visiting preachers.

Announcement was made that special church activities had been arranged at the new church for this week. On Thursday, Central United Church choir will present their cantata. On Wednesday a sound picture dealing with the construction of Lamont hospital will be shown and on Thursday Knox United Church choir will present the cantata "Olivet to Calvary."

NEXT SUNDAY the organ will be dedicated and the sacrament of infant baptism performed. The Rev. D. J. C. Elson, St. Stephen's College, will be guest preacher.

The triumph of life over death, typified by the Resurrection was outlined to members of his congregation by Rev. D. N. Buntain of the Pentecostal Tabernacle, who drew a dramatic picture of the discovery of the empty tomb, and subsequent events.

Aged Make Pests Of Themselves

The great tragedy of our age is not so much that it afflicts our joints and dulls our faculties as that it robs us of our good manners. When we are young, we make an effort to make ourselves agreeable to those with whom we are thrown in contact and to cultivate the amenities of polite society.

But most old people throw all consideration for others to the winds, and feel that age gives them the privilege of telling everybody home truths that they would rather die than hear, and other rather indulging their most obnoxious peculiarities.

THE IS WHY Grandpa and Grandma so seldom find welcome in their children's homes when they come to live with them. For filial piety is apt to give out when too great a demand is made upon it, and when Father and Mother prove to be not a benediction in their sons' and daughters' homes but a bomb under the doorsteps that blows all of the peace and comfort to smithereens.

An interesting picture of how old people only too often act when they go to live with their children is furnished by a letter from a girl who writes: "Grandpa has come to live with us and I don't see how we are going to stand it. He is a critic on the hearth for fair. Nothing that we do pleases him because they didn't do it that way when he was young. And he doesn't mind telling us off."

But the main thing that gets on our nerves is his curiosity. Every time the telephone rings he wants to know who is calling, and why they called, and what they said. Same way about the door bell. Even the grocery boy can't deliver the food unless he is told all about it. He watches the mailbox like a hawk to see who gets letters, and why, and whom they are from.

He talks incessantly and tells the same story over and over again until we are ready to shriek. He always wants to know what time we girls got home when we have been to a party; where we went; whom we went out with and what they said. If any money is spent, he has to know how much everything costs.

"EVERYTHING that happens in the family has to be explained to him, no matter whether it is his business or not. And then we have to listen to his endless advice on what to eat; when we should go to bed; how we should dress, and whom we should know, until he almost drives us crazy."

Undoubtedly there are old people, like the one my correspondent describes so vividly, who are household pests, but they are a tiny pathetic figure as well. For it is because they have no interests of their own any more that makes them pry into all affairs of those about them. And the reason they bore everyone to tears with their advice is because the one consolation prize that Nature gives the old is the belief that age has given them supernatural wisdom.

But, all the same, while we are young we should begin preparing for age by minding our manners and trying to make ourselves pleasant to live with; by keeping up old friendships and making new ones; by learning to live alone and like it; by being sympathetic and kind instead of critical of it, and by keeping ourselves interesting instead of becoming boring.

And, most of all, we should endeavor ourselves to our children and our grandchildren but not ever going to live with them as long as there is an Old Ladies' or an Old Men's Home.

Why Grow Old?

By Josephine Lowman

The rather simple procedure of giving eyes a pretty frame, can make the greatest difference in a woman's appearance. I imagine you all have, at some time, noticed the startling difference which dying in the brows and lashes has made in some acquaintance. If you are going to have your lashes and brows dyed, be certain that you have an expert operator, and also insist on a test in order to be sure that you are not allergic to the dye which is to be used.

Regular grooming of the brows and lashes and the application of mascara, can add much to your beauty. It is best to keep the natural shape of the brows, as they are. However, the strays should be removed so that you have a smooth line. If you wish to darken your brows a little, use an eyebrow pencil, with short strokes. Blondes will need a brown one while brunettes should use black.

A very thin application of vaseline on the upper lids adds much to a woman's attractiveness. Lashes also look much longer when they are curled and swept upward. Since the war is over, eyelash curlers are again on the market. After curling your lashes, apply mascara, beginning at the base of the lash and sweeping to the end of the hairs which may stick together.

A small brush of some kind; either a toothbrush or an eyebrow brush, should be used regularly on the brows. This not only removes powder from the brows but helps train them to remain in line to lie as they should!

If you wish to have my eye exercises send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 8 "Keep Something in Your Eye—Keep Beauty" to Josephine Lowman in care of The Edmonton Bulletin.

Your Baby and Mine

By Myrtle Meyer Eldred

The mother is always torn between the impulse to give into the child because it will make him happy, and to deny him his desires so he won't be spoiled. It makes for parental confusion to try to balance these two factors satisfactorily.

There is a real cause of confusion because children do have to accept some thwarting of their desires to act, in the interest of the whole family—or of the whole of society. No one, anywhere can do exactly as he pleases all the time, there are a hundred rules, regulations, laws and what-not which prevent this.

Children have to learn to conform and to compromise their own desires for the good of others. But it can't be entirely a pattern of compromise without some indulgence of the child's desires, or the pattern is askew. Also, the child cannot develop into a courageous and self-confident individual if all of his desires are frustrated because the mother is too lazy to bother to fulfill them.

The small child needs lots of experience in doing. If everything he attempts is met by stern, or even calm but firm noes, he develops a sense of his worthlessness, a belief in his incapacity that is stifling to him.

The young child is imbued with a sense of power and a desire to use it. To allow him to act upon his own initiative, even if at times this is inconvenient to the parent, develops his judgment and self-confidence. The child must feel strong and smart enough to carry through his plans. If he occasionally balks at performing necessary tasks then the mother may use some techniques for accomplishing them.

"Do you want to carry Polly when you go up to take your bath?" "Do you want to help mother bring in the food to the table or would you rather be waited upon?" "You may come in the front, the back or the side door, which do you prefer?"

Then baths get taken, meals eaten and children come into the house because they feel that they have had a part in bringing these acts about and have not been the helpless toy of a domineering parent. It develops children to be given a sense of power without letting that power upset the family and its functioning.

Our leaflet No. 72 on "When the Child Says 'No'" may be had by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope to Myrtle Meyer Eldred in care of the Edmonton Bulletin.

Attempt Salvage $540,000 in Gold

AUCKLAND, New Zealand, April 7—(Reuters)—An attempt to salvage 35 bars of gold worth $540,000 from the 13,400-ton liner "Niagara" which struck a mine off the coast of New Zealand in 1940, will be made this year. John Johnstone, a diver who helped in a previous attempt which recovered $9,600,000 worth of gold from the "Niagara" in 1941 intends to go down in a specially designed diving bell to a depth of 43 feet where the "Niagara" is lying.

Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther, secretary of the Vanderbilt Cup Committee, was on hand for the first time since the war. During the war, Albert H. Morehead acted as secretary. With the General's return, Mr. Morehead resigned, so did the General, and Charles Lochridge was elected secretary.

Lochridge is one of the country's most colorful players. He always can be counted upon for a spectacular bid or play, and he did not disappoint the crowd when today's hand came up in the Vanderbilt.

How would you like to have been sitting opposite Lochridge when, over a simple bid of one spade he bid six? Discussing the hand afterward, Lochridge said, "My partner's bid showed that he had five or six spades. There is no law against his having five or six to the ace-jack-ten. He has a good chance to make the hand if he is void in diamonds, and if he has any diamonds, one of them can be the king—in which case there is nothing to it."

Lochridge's explanations make the game sound pretty simple, and as a matter of fact, when the dummy went down, there was nothing to it. The opening heart lead was won with the ace, a small diamond was ruffed by declarer and a trump led, West winning. Regardless of what West returned, declarer could win it ruff another diamond, pick up East's trumps and the diamond suit was good.

New Soapless VEL Outcleans, Outlasts Suds

by Frances Thompson noted homemaking authority

As a result of constant home tests, my enthusiasm for soapless VEL is mounting daily. At first, like you perhaps, I thought VEL was strangely different. But now that I understand it, I think it's wonderful.

MAKES SUDS UNNECESSARY "FROTH"

Soapless VEL is a fine white granulated powder which acts quite differently from soap flakes or soap powders. The big difference is in the suds. VEL makes plenty of frothy suds, even in cool or hard water, but these suds are quite unlike soap suds. Actually suds are unnecessary to VEL's cleaning action. With soap, heavy suds are essential for cleaning, but not so with VEL.

MAKES THE WATER WORK

When VEL's frothy suds subside it's extraordinary cleaning power continues in the almost clear water. You'll actually see particles of dirt in your clear water which VEL has so ably removed from your clothes or dishes.

VEL IS NEW—MODERN

So let's get away from the old-fashioned idea that lasting suds are necessary. Now that soapless VEL is here, this modern cleanser quickly cuts grease and makes china and glassware sparkle because it leaves no soapy film. VEL is such a gentle cleanser that it can be used with perfect safety for delicate lingerie, woolens, baby clothes and nylons—and it is very kind to the hands.

NOT A SUBSTITUTE FOR SOAP

VEL is not a substitute for soap and should not be compared with soap. It is a so-called "detergent" which is winning widespread popularity with those who use it correctly.

"VEL" is a registered trademark of the COLGATE-PALMOLIVE-PEET CO. LTD.

Phyllis Leppard Is Easter Bride

In an Easter week-end wedding at First Baptist Church Saturday at 8 p.m. Miss Phyllis Rose Leppard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. Howard Leppard of Edmonton, became the bride of Clifton William Johnston of Edmonton, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Johnston of Maymont, Sask. Bouquets of spring flowers were placed in the church for the wedding, at which the Rev. Daniel Young officiated.

THE BRIDE, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a floor length white crepe gown, styled with sweetheart neckline. The front panels of the dress and long sleeves which ended in lily points over the wrists, were trimmed with lace. Her floor-length veil was caught to her head by a lace, trimmed with pearls. She carried an arm bouquet of red roses and freesia, tied with tiny white ribbon bows.

Miss Margaret Wood was bridesmaid, wearing a floor length blue dress, the bodice of taffeta. The dress was styled with a scalloped sweetheart neckline, and scalloped short puffed sleeves. Her accessories were a pink chapel veil and pink gloves, and her bouquet was of spring flowers.

BEST MAN was Norman Johnston, brother of the bridegroom. Ralph Strachan, and Dr. K. M. Gordon, a brother-in-law of the bride, were ushers.

Mrs. Barber Smith played the wedding music, and during the signing of the register, Miss Irene Fisk sang "I'll Walk Beside You."

After the wedding ceremony, a reception to 30 guests was held in the Jasper room, Macdonald hotel. Receiving with the bride couple was Mrs. Leppard chose a street-length dress of ice blue crepe, with navy hat and accessories. Her corsage was of red roses.

MRS. JOHNSTON, mother of the bridegroom, wore a figured crepe dress, with black accessories. A corsage of Tallman roses was pinned to her shoulder.

The bride's table set with a white linen cloth, centred with a three-tiered wedding cake, embedded in tulle. Silver vases of spring flowers completed the arrangement. At the coffee urns were Mrs. T. H. Harvey, aunt of the bride, and Mrs. Walter Gordon.

THE BRIDAL TOAST was proposed by the Rev. M. A. Johnson, of Bremmer.

For a motoring honeymoon trip to Saskatoon, the bride changed to a gray pin stripe suit, worn with fuchsia flower hat and black accessories. The couple will reside at 10008 103 street.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Norman Johnston, Mrs. R. F. Johnston, all of Maymont, Sask.; Miss Leola Johnston, Prince Albert, Sask.; Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Little, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Northy, Miss Maybelle Northy, all of Red Deer; Mrs. T. H. Hawey, the Rev. and Mrs. M. A. Johnson, all of Bremmer.

Poplar Contest

The Alberta government's cooking contest so far has received more than 950 entries. The province is seeking a recipe for a "national" dish for Alberta, and the public will have until the end of April to send in entries. Most of those received so far cover the preparation of meat dishes, said D. E. C. Campbell, director of tourist promotion.

Miss MacLaren City Visitor

Work of the St. John Ambulance Brigade in Great Britain is an inspiration to Canadians. Miss Margaret MacLaren, woman superintendent-in-chief of the Canadian branch of the brigade said in Edmonton Monday.

Now stationed at the Dominion headquarters in Ottawa, she is on a four-week tour of Canada, visiting the nursing divisions, and cadet nursing divisions of the St. John Ambulance Brigade. She is at the Macdonald hotel until Wednesday, when she will leave for Calgary.

"The brigade is very strong in Britain, well established, and extremely active, with a membership of both men and women," she said.

From January, 1944, to October, 1946, Miss MacLaren was stationed in London, Eng. She was in London during the barrage of flying bombs and V2 rockets, and said that a Canadian branch of the brigade had a medical aid post in the Leicester Square tube station, an air raid shelter covering a population of more than 1,000 persons, during the flying bomb attack.

A total of 221 Canadian members of the brigade served as welfare officers, ambulance drivers and nursing auxiliaries in British hospitals in Great Britain, North West Europe and as far east as India and Singapore, during the war, Miss MacLaren said.

German Misses Small Comforts

By Judy Barden

BERLIN, (N.A.A.)—He was a very old man with trembling hands and watery blue eyes. A few wisps of white hair escaped from his severe Homburg hat. He wanted to sell some China, he said. But it soon became apparent all he wanted was to sit down in a warm house.

His clothes were carefully patched, his shoes all shined.

"I was a journalist," he said. "I know what our troubles of today are. I hate to complain. Of course, there's the lack of fuel, food, clothing, worry about the war prisoners, brother hating brother, general demoralization. But the best way to describe our daily troubles is to explain the daily joys we now miss—the pleasure of that fat Sunday morning paper sticking through the letter box. . . your mail on the Sunday breakfast table. . . The sack of fresh rolls and bottle of milk outside the door. They're only small things, but when you get old they are the things you miss.

"Another is the joy of being choosy about having a chocolate bar or a chocolate-almond bar.

Recalls Free Travel

"And then one used to go to the railway station and say 'one to Rome, express, second class,' or 'two to London and return'—all this without having to show reams of passes, visas and other documents. If you wanted to see ruins, you could go to Pompeii or Greece, where ruins were an impressive decoration.

"These," said the aged journalist, "were the little joys of our life. One day they will return, but I fear it won't be in my day—to be dressed properly without being envied by your fellow man; to be able to say 'Look what I bought today!' without being taken for a black marketer; to invite people to your home, not because they can get you coal, fat or sugar, but because they're pleasant company; to answer the doorbell without fear it is the gas man to turn off the gas, or the electrician to fine you for violating the consumption order. . .

"To express sympathy or disgust without being denounced. . . one of the things I dislike are those of my own countrymen who run around with little flags in their buttonholes to prove that because their grandfathers were Dutch, maybe, they should be viewed as Allies."

Apart from the China in his bag, the old man carried a small white paper parcel.

Carries Gift of Coal
"Later I'll visit relatives," he said. "One are the days when we could take flowers, but I do have a little gift which I think will warm their hearts."

He undid the parcel. It contained five pieces of coal.

He was going to visit his son-in-law, an ex-army officer.

"Ironical," he said. "He was once an engineer. He wanted to build bridges. The only direct order he received during the war was to blow up a wonderful bridge across the Dan. He can't forget it. Now he doesn't care whether he designs or works as a laborer, so long as he builds bridges. He wants to save his conscience."

The old journalist took his departure, out into the snow, and it was some time before I realized I hadn't even looked at the china. But then there are many Germans who only pretend they want to sell things when their main object is to get warm for half an hour.

Claim New Fibre Better Than Silk

By William McGaffin

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia, (CDN)—A fibre that reportedly will "completely revolutionize the Czech textile industry" has just been invented by a Czech Communist chemical researcher on the staff of the nationalized Bata shoe factory at Zlín.

The inventor, Comrade Engineer J. Moravec, calls his product "silon" and claims for it a strength 50 times that of viscose artificial silk.

"Silon" is being widely publicized here by the Communist newspaper Rude Pravo, as a great asset to the Czech two-year industrial plan. Experts who drew up the blueprint for the plan did not believe the invention sufficiently advanced to include it. But, says the newspaper, "the whole problem was solved in five months by Comrade Moravec and his assistants."

Fast Manufacture
Stockings made of "silon" can be manufactured in one-fifth of the time required for making ordinary hosiery, Moravec claims, and Rude Pravo predicts that the time saved and the economy in machinery will enable factories to export 80 percent of their stocking production while satisfying the home market with the remaining 20 percent. This, the paper adds, will mean the "collapse of the black market in nylons."

A front-page article, accompanied by a picture, in the Communist Organ, says "silon" stockings have the "sheerness of a cobweb" and yet are stronger than nylons.

Comrade Moravec is reported to have worn a pair of these stockings for 400 days without getting a run. He is quoted as stating that silon fibre is 10 times stronger than that employed in other stockings. A pair of "silons," he adds, weighs less than half an ounce compared with the 1½ ounce weight of other types.

Will Establish Plant
Comrade Moravec has been put in charge of establishing a plant for sufficient fibre to feed all the production of his new fibre. The claim is that 12 machines will supply hosiery making plants in Zlín. There is no indication, however, as to when the factories will go into mass production.

Some Americans are wondering if the Czechs will have enough phenol, in view of the world shortage of this coal-tar derivative, which is the basic material out of which the stockings are made.

Meanwhile, according to Rude Pravo, the first pairs are ready for presentation to Mme. Benes, Prime Minister Gottwald and Industry Minister Leuschman.

"Change a Blade" SCISSORS

Put an end to all your "scissor troubles" with a pair of these precision-made scissors. When the blades become dull, they can be discarded and replaced with sharp new blades in only ten seconds. Adjust them to suit your finger grip and the material to be cut. Replacements are really inexpensive, too.

- With black handles, each $3.25
- With chromium-plated handles, each $3.95
- Extra blades, pair 40c
